

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AWARENESS MONTH

Thursday, October 1 - Flower Wall Project

The flower wall is a public art memorial symbolizing survival, healing, and remembrance of domestic violence. Please join us as we welcome military service members and their families, reservists, contractors, and civilians to create a flower wall to bring awareness and promote resilience honoring our survivors of domestic violence. All materials will be provided for this project.

Photos are welcome to be added to the flower wall. The flower wall will serve as a visual reminder that our loved ones of domestic violence will never be forgotten.

Thursday, October 15 - Clothesline Project – Painting T-Shirts

Clothesline Project activity will provide t-shirts to decorate for visual display in honor of survivors' victims of domestic violence. Raise awareness, break the silence, celebrate their strength, and educate the public. Create your own personal artwork sharing stories through art to be displayed during the month of October and then taken home.

Thursday, October 29 - Canvas for a Cause

Canvas for a Cause to create your own personal canvas painting in recognition of Domestic Violence Awareness Month. All materials will be provided for this project at no charge. These paintings will be yours to keep following the event.
